Holocaust, Genocide, and Crimes Against Humanity:
A Symposium Highlighting USF Research & Teaching

Featuring 17 scholars from 11 USF departments:
Libraries | Africana Studies | Early Childhood Education
Secondary Education | Mathematics | Anthropology
Humanities | Communication | Women’s Studies
Religious Studies | Philosophy

Friday, April 9th
9 AM - 5 PM
USFTampa Library Grace Allen Room
April 9, 2010

9:00-10:00  Preliminary Statements
Silvio L. Gaggi, Director, Humanities Institute, Welcome and Introductions
William A. Garrison, Dean, USF Library System and Mark I. Greenberg, Director, Special Collections, USF Tampa Library, “Origins of the Libraries’ Holocaust & Genocide Studies Center”
Edward Kissi, Africana Studies: “Genocide Studies: The Evolution of an Interdisciplinary Field”

10:00-11:30  Panel: Teaching Crimes Against Humanity
Edward Kissi, Africana Studies, Chair
Ilene R. Berson, Childhood Education
Michael J. Berson, Secondary Education
Brandon Haas, USF Graduate Student and teacher, Freedom High School
Manoug N. Manougian, Mathematics

11:30-1:00  Lunch (on your own)

1:00-2:30  Panel: Trauma
Silvio L. Gaggi, Humanities Institute, Chair
Elizabeth Bird, Anthropology
Maria Cizmic, Humanities and Cultural Studies
Carolyn S. Ellis, Communication
Kim M. Vaz, Social and Psychological Foundations

2:30-3:00  Break

3:00-4:30  Panel: Morality/Ethics
Erin H. Kimmerle, Anthropology, Chair
Del DeChant, Religious Studies
Darrell J. Fasching, Religious Studies
Alex T. Levine, Philosophy
Martin R. Schonfeld, Philosophy

4:30-5:00  Discussion: Next Steps
Panelists and audience